payroll employment rose by 638,000 in October, and the unemployment rate declined to 6.9%. These improvements in the labor market reflect the continued resumption of economic activity that had been curtailed due to the coronavirus (COVID-19) pandemic and efforts to contain it, according to the Labor Department. In October, notable job gains occurred in leisure and hospitality, professional and business services, retail trade, and construction. Many of those jobs are created by small businesses. "Despite these figures, small business owners are still very worried. States like New Jersey and Connecticut are looking at putting greater
